Hi Amy,

I've heard back from Ben on some of the QAPP questions you had, and summarized his response below. Also, I'm attaching our R10 QAPP guidance, which you may already be aware of.

Ben was not involved in reviewing Ecology's original QAPP for the Deschutes TMDL. As for requirements on which format to use – it is up to you on what you feel is more efficient – to modify Ecology's QAPP or convert it to our recommended QAPP organization. If you do go with the R10 approach, we recommend you follow the sequence of topics in the table of contents. It is more streamlined compared to Ecology's and EPA HQ's guidance. We can go over this more during tomorrow's call if you have questions.

Thanks!
